The First Football Game

Hamilton played her first game of football last Saturday, defeating Cazenovia Seminary by a score of 32–0. Promptly at three, Vollmer of Cazenovia kicked the ball to Welch on the 10-yard line, who advanced it 30 yards. Holley gained 5 yards, then White set the student-body in a roar by scoring a touchdown by a 60-yard run through right guard within one minute after play had started. No goal.

Vollmer again kicked to Welch on the 15-yard line. Hamilton made no gain and White punted 20 yards to Cazenovia who punted back 20 yards. After Holley had gained 15 yards, White 10 yards, Sidle 3 yards, Harper 15 yards on a forward pass, and Welch and White 5 yards each, Hamilton was held for downs. Cazenovia punted to Holley on the 35-yard line. After several consistent gains, Harper, on a forward pass, carried the ball 20 yards for the second touchdown. White kicked the goal. Harper received the next kick-off on the 15-yard line and returned the ball 20 yards. White then punted to Cazenovia who fumbled. The ball bounced into Harper's hands, and he, by a 60-yard run, scored the third touchdown. No goal.

After each side had punted without advantage, time was called for the first half, with the score Hamilton 16, Cazenovia 0.

In the second half Wisehart was substituted for Cody at right guard, and Jones for Sidle at left half. White punted to the 10-yard line, and after several attempts to break through Hamilton's line or to pass her ends for a long gain, Cazenovia was at last forced to punt. White carried the ball 20 yards and Jones 10 more. Jones then scored Hamilton's fourth touchdown, after two minutes and twenty seconds of play. Holley kicked the goal.

Cazenovia punted to White on the 20-yard line, and with the help of long runs by Welch and Holley, another touchdown was scored. No goal.

At this point in the game, with about five minutes to play, nearly the whole of Hamilton's second team came in to take the regulars' positions. White and Harper were the only ones who played through the entire game. After considerable punting, Getman made a spectacular run from Hamilton's 15-yard line, scoring the sixth and last touchdown. No goal.

Cazenovia's team contained but five of the sturdy men who held Hamilton to a 0 to 0 score in last season's first game, however, the Seminary team equals Hamilton in weight and put up a sturdy fight, but it could not overcome the determination of the Hamilton men to win. The line-up follows:

CAZENOVIA (0)		HAMILTON (32)
Kent	Left End	Leavenworth (Wilson)
Grass	Left Tackle	Osborne (Kellogg)
Hawthorne	Left Guard	Glover (Wheeler)
Wilson	Center	Williams (Thomas)
Crowell	Right Guard	Cody (Wisehart)
Vollmer	Right Tackle	McLean (Spencer)
Dugan	Right End	Harper
Burns	Quarterback	Holley (Capt.) (Getman)
Keating	Left Halfback	Sidle (Jones)
Bailey (Capt.)	Right Halfback	Welch (Abbott)
Ainslee	Fullback	White

Referee—Harold R. Crook, Amherst '07, Umpire—Bennett, Hamilton '06. Headlinesman—George Smith, Hamilton '08. Touchdowns—Harper 2, White, Jones, Holley, Getman. Goals—White, Holley Time of Halves—10 minutes.

Cornell 23—Hamilton 0

VARSITY PLAYS GOOD BALL

The Varsity played Cornell at Ithaca last Wednesday, the game resulting in a score of 23–0 in favor of Cornell. However, considering the disadvantages against which the Varsity had to contend, the team played a very good game. Capt. Holley was prevented from running with the ball to any extent by an injury to his leg, while White and Sidle were also handicapped by poor condition. The trouble seemed to be, at least with some members of the team, "stage-fright." This was clearly shown by the difference in defense in the first and second halves, Cornell scoring three touchdowns in the first half, and only one in the second. Of course, it must be taken into consideration that Cornell outweighed the Varsity thirty pounds to the man. Bucking the line for gains was nearly an impossibility with May, Thompson, Cosgrove, O'Rourke and Capt. Cook on the defense.

The Varsity worked the forward pass for gains a number of times, especially in the second half, Harper and Leavenworth each making a gain of 20 yards on it. Capt. Holley made a number of gains through a broken field. One of Cornell's strong points was her interference, which worked in almost perfect order. The only possible way it could be broken up was by the "smashing end."

The game in part follows: Capt. Holley won the toss and Cosgrove kicked to Hamilton's 20-yard line. Holley caught the kick and returned the ball 20 yards. On a poor forward pass, 15 yards was lost. White punts, but on account of his lame leg was unable to send the pigskin more than 30 yards. Cornell, by good interference, brought the ball to the 20-yard line and Shearer on an end run scored a touchdown. Cosgrove kicked the goal. Score, Cornell 6, Hamilton 0.

White kicked to 40-yard line. Cornell punts back to White. Holley punts again to Cornell who by two forward passes and an end run score their second touchdown. Cosgrove kicks the goal. Score, Cornell 12, Hamilton 0.

Cosgrove kicked to Holley and after Leavenworth made a short gain on a forward pass and White failed to get through the line, the Varsity lost the ball. Cornell lost 15 yards on a forward pass and punted to White. Sidle made a short gain on a forward pass but the ball was lost on a fake kick. Cornell made a successful forward pass and scored the third touchdown. Cosgrove missed the goal. Score, Cornell 17, Hamilton 0.

White kicked to Earle who returned the ball 20 yards. The first half ended with the ball in Cornell's possession on Hamilton's 25-yard line. Score, 17–0 in favor of Cornell.

White kicked to Earle. Walters punted to White, and after a few unsuccessful attempts to gain, Holley punted back. Cornell lost the ball on a fumble and after Leavenworth had made 20 yards and Harper 20 on a forward pass, Holley tried a drop-kick but was blocked. Cornell by bucking the line carried the ball down the field but lost on a fumble. White punted to Earle. Cornell by steady gains carried the ball down the field for a touchdown, with only 20 seconds left to play.

White kicked to Shearer who returned the ball 30 yards. Time up.

On the whole, Holley, Glover and Leavenworth played the best game for Hamilton, while Thompson, Earle and Cook excelled for Cornell.

The line-up follows:

HAMILTON (0)		CORNELL (23)
Leavenworth	Left End,	Watson, P.
McLean	Left Tackle,	Cooke, (Capt.)
Glover	Left Guard,	Thompson
Williams	Center,	May
Thomas	Right Guard,	Cosgrove, K.
Osborne	Right Tackle,	O'Rourke
Harper	Right End,	Van Orman
Holley	Quarter Back,	Gardner
White	Full Back,	Walters
Abbott	Right Half Back,	Shearer

Referee—Evans, Williams, '91. Umpire—Wright, Williams, '97. Linesmen—Wilson, '09, McLean, '09, Timekeeper—Sarles, '10. Time of halves—15 and 15 minutes.

Reportorial

E. P. GLOVER. R. W. TITUS
J. M. CROSS. J. N. MCMATH

IN THE LAST ISSUE of one of the Clinton papers nearly a half-column was devoted to an article scoring a few of the college men upon their behavior at a performance given by the New York Comedy Co. on last Friday night. This article would be overlooked as unworthy of any consideration but that it might create a wrong impression and one unmerited by Hamilton students.

The fact is that the production was not worth the very small fee of admission, and in that they were cheated, they evinced their disapproval, thus voicing the sentiment of a large part of the audience.

The men felt that they were imposed upon by the character of the production and felt justified in showing their disapproval of cheap shows with a view to discouraging their repetition. When first-class companies appear in Clinton they will undoubtedly receive the patronage of the college and approbation according to their merits. Meanwhile such sweeping condemnation by a reputable newspaper seems in poor taste, to say the least.

THOUGH THE FOOTBALL TEAM has proved itself decidedly deserving of our heartiest support, that is by no means the vital reason why our apathy thus far in this line is deplorable. To see but a handful of men out on the side-lines is a sight sickening to one who is at all acquainted with Hamilton College. Hamilton men have never been known to back a team half-heartedly. Hamilton spirit has become a proverb, and it is only by virtue of that spirit that our teams have been able to put to shame their invariably heavier foes of the gridiron. Whether or not we shall have future success depends entirely on the brand of support we put up. If we continue that spirit of past years we shall win, but if, as it now appears, we ignore the record of our predecessors, ignore the sacrifice that the men in the suits are making in order to be worthy of their name, and think only of our own despicable comfort, preferring to loaf in a warm room, contented in our selfishness, then we are lost. Let us sell those togs of glory and buy with the proceeds some soothing cigarettes and some weather-strips for the windows. That would be better than a continuation of this mockery which we term support. That would prove a more charitable death to the spirit which has so long lived and flourished — far more charitable than to let it gradually dwindle into extinction while we blandly feign that it still thrives. The solution is simple. We can surely not be weaklings enough to betray this precious trust that the departed have bequeathed us. The answer "No!" is unanimous to such an imputation. But the concrete "No" is preferable — the "No" that is not of words but of deeds. Let every man in college get out on the field and stay out as long as the team stays. Then the sincerity of that "No" will be known.

WE CANNOT CONDEMN in too strong terms the action of the under classes in breaking in a door in New South on Thursday night. The blame seems to attach mainly to the Sophomores, for they were on the outside and did the necessary shoving. The upperclassmen present did all in their power to prevent this outrage, but the lordly Sophomores did not consider their elders' advice and acted on their own initiative. In this action they transgressed all bounds of college custom and even the laws of common decency. To so treat one of our finest buildings, shows a deplorable lack of grey-matter, while their attitude toward the upperclassmen desecrated all the traditions which have helped to make this college what it is. They were wrong in all their actions of Thursday night and the sooner they realize that the College disapproves of and despises their attitude, so much sooner will they become true Hamilton men.

Today's Game

Today we play St. Lawrence on the Campus and it will be a game worth the candle. A little different defense from that used in the Cornell game will probably be used by Hamilton. St. Lawrence will outweigh the home team, but only by a few pounds, and who cares for that! There were some brilliant rallies in the Cornell game which gave a glimpse of what the team can do, and we expect to see some football today.

St. Lawrence has tied us twice in the last two years, 11-11 and 0-0, and been beaten once 11-5, but we know our team is too fast for them and we expect their work to show it.

Now this is a game that not a man in college can afford to miss. We only play one more game on the campus, that against Union, and surely the college can turn out in a body for two games. The team deserves our loyal support and ought to get it. Come yourself, bring your friends, and don't forget your megaphone.

The College-body will meet at the Gym. at 2 : 45 and march to the field under the direction of the Cheer-leaders, to occupy the bleachers.

Y. M. C. A. Items

Dr. Wood addressed the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday at noon on the Value and Place of the Religious Life here in College.

First, he placed before those present a picture of the ease with which this might be crowded out in the new environment, and said that these four years were really the physiological time for the development of this religious side, without which the perfect man was impossible. This is something aside from religious observances although they may aid and be the outward manifestations of it.

There are two tests of our religious status. One test is the reaction of association with other men; whether we accept in the right way the degree of influence which each man cannot fail to exert. Another is the reaction of our souls to the power of God. Each man can judge himself by these tests.

He then told, in a practical way, what things would retard and what aid in this development, mentioning first indulgence of self and preoccupation with other things, as hindering influences. The usual religious duties and careful reading are among the helpful ones.

The Freshmen held their first class prayer meeting last week. Leavenworth, '09, led the meeting. The attendance was not large, but it is hoped that the interest in this will grow, and that the attendance will be steadily increased.

Mr. A. V. Staub, '07 of Union Theological Seminary, has been on the Hill this week. Mr. Staub is working in the interest of a mission to be established by him next year at Pekin, China, under the auspices of Oberlin College.

Mr. Safford, State Secretary of the Student Y. M. C. A., will speak at noon tomorrow.

The Students' Handbook

The Students' Handbook for 1907-8, better known to college men as "The Blue Book," has been in the hands of the students for the past week. The booklet is presented by the Young Men's Christian Association with the idea of assisting the men of the entering class in making themselves familiar with the college, its customs, songs and cheers.

The primary object, of course, is to affiliate as many men as possible with the Association, and with this idea in view several pages are devoted to the general history of the organization and the aims and purposes of the local chapter. Extracts from the constitution and a conception of the work done is printed together with a complete list of officers and department heads.

The book is prefaced by the well-worded and optimistic greeting of President Stryker, and on the opposite page is printed a complete calendar for the college year.

A brief history of the college and a clear and concise description of the college buildings are given.

Necessary space is devoted to the various established organizations of the college, including the constitution and officers of the Athletic Association and College Publications, together with a complete catalogue of the several Fraternities and Societies.

A few timely words of advice and instruction are given to the new men. The standing athletic records of the college are printed in full together with the college yells and songs. A blank tabulated form of the Scheme of Recitations for the three terms are given, the remaining space being devoted to advertising matter and blank memoranda.

The Handbook, aside from its material benefit to Freshmen, is used constantly by upperclassmen as a reference. It is neat and compact in arrangement, sacrificing nothing, however, at the expense of its completeness. The Executive Committee of the Association is to be congratulated upon the excellence of the book and its punctuality in appearance.

COLLEGE NOTES

— Knox, '10, has been elected captain of the Sophomore Track Team.

— The chapel dome has been regilded and now reflects the morning sun with more vigor than ever.

— Trippe '07 was on the hill Tuesday. He expects to leave Utica for his home the latter part of the week.

— Conklin '09 has been engaged as instructor at the Wheeler School, Clinton, filling the position vacated by Kuolt '07.

— The following men have been added to the college choir: A. F. Osborne '09, Dounce '10, Allen, Gardiner and Sidle '11.

— LIFE takes pleasure in presenting to the College a supplementary sheet of "Gridiron Lays." These songs are good in meter and it is hoped their airs will commend themselves to the student-body. If you are not familiar with the tunes, learn them and then be on the side-lines every day to help the team on by your influence.

Faculty Changes

This year two new names are added to the list of the college faculty. Prof. William M. Carruth, a graduate of Western Reserve in the class of '01, is engaged as Assistant Professor of Mathematics. While in college Prof. Carruth was chosen as a member of Sigma Chi, an honorary scientific fraternity corresponding to the Phi Beta Kappa of the classical course. Following his graduation he was engaged for three years under government auspices in educational work in the Philippine Islands. He then took up post-graduate work at Cornell, remaining there three years, one of which he spent as Fellow of Mathematics. Prof. Carruth has a high standing in his profession and will undoubtedly prove a valuable addition to the college Faculty.

Mr. George H. Sicard, '06, will teach Oratory and English. After graduating from Hamilton, he taught for a year in Peekskill Military Academy in the capacity of Athletic Director and Instructor in French. He now succeeds to the place made vacant by the resignation of Prof. E. J. Ward, and will undoubtedly perform his duties in a highly creditable manner.

The Instrumental Club

The trials for the Instrumental Club were held on Tuesday of last week. A large number of new men were out and especially noticeable was the fact that eight of the candidates were from the three upper classes. This added interest and support of the upper classes will contribute not a little to the success of the club.

The make-up of the club will be similar to that of last year, six men going from 1907 and eleven new men working for positions. In this abundance of material lies the hope for a good club, not only in a wide selection of the best ability but also in the competition for places acting as a spur to hard work.

Twenty-seven men are now practicing regularly three times a week; thirteen mandolins, two violins, two flutes, a clarinet, cello, six guitars, piano, and traps making up the instrumentation.

The cello is a needed addition but the traps are to be used very little and the cornet not at all, both being too sturdy for a mandolin club.

Every member of the club is required to deposit five dollars with the management. From this amount a fine of fifty cents for absence from each practice, and twenty-five cents for tardiness, without a reasonable excuse, is deducted. This deposit in full will be returned to any man who for any reason does not make the club. So the amount returned at the end of the season depends upon every man's willingness to make the club a success and no one need lose a cent.

The prospects for a more than good club are bright judging from so early an outlook.

Practice will be held each week on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings, at eight o'clock on the first two evenings and at seven on Friday.

Football Exchanges

Most of the large colleges did not play Saturday but Pennsylvania ran up a fair score against North Carolina, Carlisle played a hard game with Villa Nova, and Lafayette had it easy with Wyoming Seminary. Colgate showed up very poorly against Niagara, and was outclassed. The results of the games were:

Pennsylvania	37	North Carolina	0
Brown	16	N. H. State	0
Wesleyan	17	Middlebury	0
Carlisle	10	Villa Nova	3
Rutgers	5	Fordham	5
Syracuse	41	Rochester	6
Williams	5	M. A. C.	4
Bucknell	5	Gettysburg	0
Lafayette	22	Wyoming Sem.	0
Dartmouth	12	Norwich	9

The reports from Harvard, Cornell, Princeton and Columbia tell of the commencement of cross-country work.

An intercollegiate swimming league will be formed this year by three New England colleges, Amherst, Williams and Brown.

The prospects, at present, for our beating Colgate this year seem very bright. We have a veteran team, a good coach, and have made a very creditable showing in the Cazenovia game, while Colgate seems to lack material, or else the trouble lies in the keeping out of the game several good men because of their college work. At any rate, barring mishaps, we will go down to Hamilton next month with the chances very even for our bringing back victory.
